JUBILEE OF UNIVERSITY FEDERATION

SIXTY YEARS AGO a small Catholic College, young in years but possessed of an ancient tradition, was approached by the governing body of a great University and asked to become a part of that University. Such a plan was unique in the academic world. Nowhere else was such a scheme in operation.

After much prayer and study the plan was endorsed by Ecclesiastical authorities and St. Michael's College became an integral part of the University of Toronto, the Provincial University for Ontario. Care was taken to protect the heritage which the College had been commissioned to pass on to its students and provision was made to ensure for them the advantages which only a large University could offer.

This was the beginning of the development which has resulted in the present constitution of the Faculty of Arts in the University of Toronto. Four federated colleges make up that faculty, each contributing to the culture of the University as a whole and each deriving benefits from that association.

The plan was originally endorsed in 1881 but it was not till thirty years later that it became operative at St. Michael's. Those years were spent in preparation for this great undertaking.

In May, '41, we are going to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of that memorable occasion. Academically it will be an occasion of brilliance and splendor with representatives from the universities of the world in attendance. Socially it will be the event in St. Michael's history. Tentative plans call for the presence of one of the outstanding speakers of the continent at the Jubilee Dinner.

For the Old Boys it will mean meeting the old gang. There will be class reunions, class dinners and a few midnight pow-pows. Your friends will be here; many of your old teach-

A SCHOLARSHIP FUND

At the meeting of the Association in August, 1939, authorization was given for the establishment of a Scholarship Fund.

Stressing the need, Father McCorkell said: "A number of boys are compelled to leave the College each year, because of insufficient means. Frequently as little as one hundred dollars would enable a student to continue his course. We strive to do our part in deserving cases, but naturally, there is a limit and I fear, I have too often overreached it."

With the approval of the Executive it was decided that each member of the Association would be asked to add his share in this project to his annual alumni fee. This fee is $2.00. There are many among you who would be glad to add a little extra, knowing for what purpose it will be utilized. If we had a hundred who would make their contribution $10.00 instead of $2.00 and a few more hundred who would contribute $5.00, many worthy students would benefit.

Here at the College we know of many outstanding students who should have the opportunity of a higher education. There are vocations to the Priesthood among these boys, there are future leaders among them, there are those who would make great scholars. St. Michael's stands alone among Colleges in having no scholarships to help such boys achieve their goals. Could the Alumni Association devote itself to a better work than aiding these boys.

This plan has already been broached to a small number to whom Father Gonter wrote personally. The response was so encouraging that this appeal is being made to every Old Boy. We all feel sure that the response will be just as generous. Send along your contributions, now, before you forget, to Father Dore, at the College.

PONTIFICAL INSTITUTE OF MEDIAEVAL STUDIES
59 QUEEN'S PARK CRESCENT
TORONTO, ONTARIO

To the OLD BOYS of Saint Michael's:

Because the Basilian Fathers of Saint Michael's College have stood unswervingly for high standards of Christian learning and culture; because they have constantly striven with a "divine discontent" to surpass their own previous achievements by efforts for still higher things; because they have always regarded, with becoming modesty, the best they had accomplished as inadequate for and unworthy of their exalted mission to represent the finest traditions of Catholic culture at their very best; honour, praise and recognition from many quarters have therefore been bestowed upon them and their work.

Of all the marks of confidence they have received, none can compare with the gracious testimony recently accorded by His Holiness the Pope at the instance of the Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec and the whole Canadian Hierarchy.

On the 18th of October, the Feast of St. Luke the Evangelist, Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, deigned to hear the petition of the Bishops of Canada and grant canonical erection to the Institute of Mediaeval Studies, founded by the Basilian Fathers at St. Michael's College, ten years previous to that date. By virtue of the Papal Charter issued on that occasion, the Institute was made a Pontifical Institute and given the right to confer academic degrees in Mediaeval Studies.

The importance and significance of this act on the part of the Holy See can scarcely be appreciated by people living to-day. We are too close to the event. But one far-seeing Bishop has written to me to say that the granting of this charter marks the most important event which has taken place in the history of education in this country.

It means that the Holy See looks to Toronto for the advancement of knowledge of the traditional culture which has shaped Christian Europe in the past and made the Middle Ages a great period of Christian civilization. It means, also, that the Pope expects from His Institute the development and propagation of a genuinely Catholic outlook on the problems of our own day in harmony with the long tradition and history of Catholic education, life, thought and culture.

For that purpose, the Holy Father established a special Pontifical Institute, the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Toronto, the only one in the world devoted to this work and one of the few Pontifical Institutes established by the Holy See. For this purpose, also, the Holy Father has created special academic degrees, the Licentiate and the Doctorate in Mediaeval Studies, to be conferred upon those who are trained under its auspices.

This Institute has grown and flourished within the very walls of St. Michael's College, your Alma Mater, and owes its existence to the same spirit of modest hard work, honest scholarship and high spiritual ideals which have characterized the life and labours of the men who gave you of their best during your student-days at St. Michael's.

Gratitude to our Most Holy Father for the august recognition He has given your College should spur you on to support and prosper the undertaking which His Holiness has so graciously sponsored. Funds are needed for scientific equipment, for books for the library, for scholarships and endowments. May we not look to the OLD BOYS to help provide for the material needs of an enterprise so thoroughly cultural, so important in our day and, above all, so profoundly Catholic?

GERALD B. PHELAN,
President.

Federation--MAY, 1941

• Meeting of Toronto Old Boys •

ON TUESDAY EVENING, April 2nd, there was held in Brennan Hall a pre-Jubilee meeting of the local members of the Association. About 350 Old Boys gathered for one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of our history.

The purpose of this meeting was the formal announcement of the Jubilee celebration in May, '41. This news was received by the crowd with prolonged applause. Father Gontier outlined some of the highlights proposed for the celebration.

Mr. W. J. O'Brien, chairman of the local committee, outlined the progress made in the formation of the Toronto auxiliary and added a special note of thanks to the Parish Priests of Toronto, for their great help in giving the party the required publicity.

The meeting opened with an interesting picture of the thrills encountered by the thrill-hunting news cameraman. The College orchestra offered selections during the evening and a buffet supper was served at the close of the meeting.

Father McCorkell was ill at the time. The College welcome was extended by Father Forestell, who also thanked the Parish Chairmen for their efforts in contacting the Old Boys throughout the city. Dr. Phelan explained the significance of the recent charter to the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies.

Several members were called on for a few words, Monsignor Brennan, Mr. Justice Kelly, Mr. Justice McTague, and Father McAuley, the Past President.

During the evening several tables in the large dining hall became very popular as old class mates gathered together. Many of these had not had the opportunity of meeting each other in years and many were the stories told of ten, twenty and thirty years ago.

There will be another such meeting in October, at which the out of town men will have the opportunity of foregathering. Plans will be more definite then, and committees will be formed. Each Old Boy will have his part in this celebration, each one will be asked to do his bit to make the Jubilee of Federation the truly memorable occasion that the event demands.

"It is worth coming all the way from Ottawa to meet so many of my old friends. The entertainment was splendid and it was a most pleasant evening all the way through."

Ross Trimble, '24.

"The committee that worked up the Smoker and Entertainment are to be congratulated. I met some old friends at the party whom I had not seen for twenty years."

Frank McLaughlin.

"I came from Campbellford to attend the Smoker and entertainment and the size and excellence of the whole party was most commendable. It was certainly the biggest turnout of Old Boys I have ever seen."

Father McAuley, '04.

"I did not think it possible to get a turnout of four hundred. Brennan Hall is admirably suited for an evening of this kind."

Joe Mahon, '25.

"I enjoyed going back to the College very much. I met several of my former masters and it was a treat all the way through."

Jerry McGuey, '33.

"The most striking thing about the gathering was the size of it and its enthusiasm. It was the biggest evening of its kind ever sponsored by the Old Boys' Association."

John Bennett, '12.

"It is a mighty auspicious start for the Jubilee celebration of 1941. As President of the Old Boys' Association I can simply say that I was delighted with the turnout."

Father Walter Gontier, '12.

FROM THE SUPERIOR.

"I do not remember a local meeting of the Alumni which produced so profound an impression upon all who attended, and they were many, as the meeting of April 2nd. Apparently it surprised everybody and they are talking about it ever since. If this is a foretaste of the gathering which is to celebrate the diamond Jubilee of University Federation in May, 1941, we can predict the greatest and most memorable meeting of St. Michael's Old Boys in the history of the College."

Father McCorkell, '11.

School Notes

ARTS BANQUET.

The thirtieth annual Arts Banquet was held in the Great Hall of Hart House on Wednesday evening, April 10th. The thought provoking address of the Hon. John Hearne, High Commissioner for Ireland, was heard with interest by some three hundred students and their guests. The latter included the Reverend and Hon. Dr. Cody, President of the University, Reverend Father McCorkell, President of the College, the Trustees of the College, Mr. Justice Hugh Kelly, Mr. Justice Charles McTague, the Hon. Peter Heenan, the Hon. P. M. Dwan, Senator McGuire, Warden Bickersteth, and members of the faculty.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS.

The past year has seen St. Michael's teams actively engaged in the various intra-mural sports. The football team, captained by Edward Cahill, was successful in recapturing the Mulock Cup, emblematic of University supremacy. The Lacrosse team also achieved championship honours under the leadership of George Silvester. In Hockey and Water Polo our teams reached the finals. Other teams in competition were the Baseball, Volley Ball and Basket Ball.

Two of the three members of the outstanding line in Intercollegiate Hockey were St. Michael's men, Jack Quigley and Don Dunbar, both from Calgary. The University Basket Ball team generally looked like a St. Michael's team as six of the eight members were from St. Michael's. In Junior Hockey the Buzzers early succumbed in the stiff competition.

THE COLLEGE BAND.

This year saw the beginning of a College Band. Forty students under the direction of Mr. Cesar Borre have been practising faithfully all winter. On April 15th they made their first public appearance in a musicale under the auspices of St. Basil's St. Vincent de Paul Society. Their performance was admirable. At the rate of progress they should soon give a really professional touch to their renditions.

The College orchestra has been augmented further this year and now officiates capably at all College functions.
